

EEC Corner Spotlight

Chapter Program & Projects

XProgram Project Icebreaker

Title:

Means, Motive, and Opportunity

Summary: (limit 100 words)

Effective classroom teaching can sometimes be a bit elusive, a bit subjective, and a bit mysterious, as well as a whole lot of fun. Searching for means, motive, and opportunity makes for discovery moments in the classroom, as well as providing clues for sleuthing a mystery. Beta Upsilon recently brought all these elements together in a night of fun with an interactive wild west mystery of their own. Written by Betsy Word and performed by the talented actresses and costume designers of Beta Upsilon, we successfully followed the clues. Other chapters have expressed an interest in our script and we are delighted to share.

Contact Information:

Name:

Elizabeth Word

Chapter:

Beta Upsilon Chapter, Xi State

Email: (optional)

ewword@comast.net

